

CAVANAGH

STATE & LOCAL TAX

Arizona SALT Newsletter

HB 2786, which extends Arizona's existing sales tax exemption for proceeds from sales of textbooks by any bookstore that are required by any state university or community college to also apply to rentals of textbooks by any bookstore that are required by any state university or community college, went into effect on October 1, 2026. To track other developments relating to Arizona tax legislation, please visit this page on my website.

How do you feel about these developments?

James G. Busby, Jr.

Below you will find:

- Details re: my upcoming speaking engagements
- A way to connect with me on LinkedIn
- A link to my website with dozens of articles relating to Arizona SALT issues, my annual summaries of Arizona tax legislation, my previous Arizona SALT Newsletters, information about proposed Arizona SALT legislation, and more
- A way for others to join my e-mail list (forward this now!)

Please contact me with all of your Arizona SALT needs:

(602) 430-9433

JBusby@CavanaghLaw.com

NASBTS
Annual Meeting

October 16, 2026
Philadelphia, PA
Noteworthy Developments in SALT [Moderating]

IPT Rocky Mountain
SALT Workshop

November 4, 2026
Colorado Springs, CO
Sales Taxation of Data Centers

ATRA Outlook Conference

November 13, 2026
Scottsdale, AZ
Tax Compliance and Litigation Update

IPT Local Luncheon

December 3, 2026
Scottsdale, AZ
*Legislative Updates for Sales, Use,
Property, and Arizona Income Tax*

NYU Institute on SALT

December 14, 2026
New York, NY
Digital Goods and Mixed Service Transactions

Arizona Forum for Improvement in Taxation

January 21, 2027
Phoenix, AZ
Arizona's Speculative Builder Tax

Connect on LinkedIn

Visit James' Website

Join James' E-Mail List for Periodic Updates on Arizona SALT Issues

CAVANAGH

1850 N. Central Avenue, Suite 1900

Phoenix, Arizona 85004

T 602 430 9433

JBusby@CavanaghLaw.com

© 2026 by James G. Busby, Jr., State & Local Tax Attorney at THE CAVANAGH LAW FIRM